THE NELLIE BROWN MYSTERY.

Her Story as Told from Day to Day by the City Newspapers

[From the Sun, Sunday, Sept. 25.] WHO IS THIS INSANE GIRL?

SPEAKS SPANISH.

THE WANDERED INTO MATRON STENARD'S HOME FOR WOMEN AND ASKED FOR A PISTOL TO PROTECT BERSELF-IS HER NAME MARINA?

E modest, comely, well-dressed girl of nineteen, who gave her name as Nellie Brown, was commitand by Justice Duffy at Essex Market yesterday for enumeration as to her samity. The circumstances surrounding her were such as to indicate that pos-She was taken to the court by Matron Irene Semant, of the Temporary Home for Females, at a Semant avenue. The matron said that Nellie came the Home slone about noon on Friday, and said the was looking for her trunks. She was accessed in a gray fannel dress trimmed with brown, moves all gloves, a black straw sattor's hat The closest questioning failed to likelt any manufactury account of her. During the night she regimened the minister by insisting that she should a placed to protect herself. She said that she and had money in a pocketbook, but somebody from her. Her voice was low and the manner refined. Her dress was neat-in while tissue paper, and a black memomilerent writings. One sentence was: "Jay good send of interest in the girl, and telegraphed m unbriance. A physician from Bellevne came with the ambulance, talked an an oxid get no definite information to the control of the insane sale will be the man of the control of th

List was been terrified into giving when the was perfectly quiet and manifest the major of that she was as the major of the major of the major of the major. The burden of her many questions put to her by major of the major of Thems Benant, of the Temporary Homomarks it become average, and perfectively received.

If he is become average, and perfectively as the second average, and perfectly recitors. She wanted to make manin over aget and what the marks in the second perfectly be and the second recitors in the least in the second part of the second recitors in the least of the second recitors and remained there are the second remained the second remained the second recitors in the second recitors and remained recitors and remained the second recitors and remained recitors and remained the second recitors and remained recommendations. The second recitors are second recitors and remained the second recitors. The book was also the second recitors when the second recitors are second recitors. The book was second recitors and remained the second recitors when the second recitors are second recitors. The book was second recitors when we seed the way of the second recitors are second recitors.

[From the Herald, Sunday, Sept. 25.] HER MEMORY CLOUDED.

THE INSANE GIRL ON BLACKWELL'S ISLAND WHO HAS NO RECOLLECTION OF HER PAST.

It is a sad case.

A young lady of eighteen years, nicely attired, showing in her speech and bearing every evidence of having been well educated and tenderly reared showing in her speech and bearing every evidence of having been well educated and tenderly reared and rended associations, becomes insane, without any identification whatever, and is to-day an inmate of the female asylum on Black well's Island.

This is the inte of Neille Marine, or Neille Brown, as ahe indifferently calls herself, who, on 'Iriday last, asked permission to stay over night in the Home for Women at No. & Second avenue.

The matron of the institution thinks she was same when she came there, and that her 'unnoy studied' developed a few hours later.

Bellevut except which who studied the case with much interest after that, who studied the case with much interest after the country of the insane pavilion at Bellevut except and the case with much interest after the country of the c haiand. There is no evidence that she has been irreated with any violence nor that she had been lavoired in any unfortunate love affair, nor that her own conduct has been marked with any moral improprieties. With much act and delicacy she was closely questioned on these points by one of her own sex without exhibiting the least inducation of anything but surprise.

[From the Sen, Monday, Sept. M.] HER MEMORY STILL GONE.

NO ONE CLAIMS THE PRETTY CRAST GIRL AT BELLEVUE.

Neille Brown is still in Bellevue Hospital. The doctors are not certain that she is insane. She says continually that men are going to hill her sand that she would kill herself if she only knew the name of the poison she wants to take. She has lead intervals, when she tails sensibly enough about what is going on around her, but she appears to remember nothing of the past. D. Braisted, the physician at the insane-pavilion, takes no stock in the theory that the girl is suffering from the effects of drugs. His opinion is tast as as is suffering from hysterical manis, but he is not certain that she is not romancing. He admits that her case is a parsic that will take service that the same is suffering from the effects of trugs. His opinion is tast as a series of the same is a start of the same is a series of the sam Nellie Brown is still in Bellevue Hospital. The iFrom the Evening Telegram, Monday, Sopt. M.] THE BRAUTIFUL WRECK.

Unable to Trll Heb Name on Antecedents

The mysterious and beautiful young woman who wandered into the Home for Women, at No. 84 Second avenue, last Friday and from there was sent pavilion, but will leave late this afternoon for Black-well's Laiand. Dr. Braisted, who is in charge of the pavilion and who at first thought that she was suffering from hysterical mania, said to the Telegrorn man to-day that she was undexplicitly insane. Sae is about eligateen years old, of medium height, with dark brown hair, hazer eyes, delicate leatures and has evidently the air and tone of a well with dark brown hair, hazer eyes, delicate leatures and has evidently the air and tone of a well with black loce; her shoes are of fine material and No. 2½ in size. There is not the slightest mark on her clothing by which she can be identified. Dr. Braisted thinks that she is a native of a southern country, probably Cuba. "I have not been able to learn anything of her antecedents or past history," said Miss Scott, the experienced head narse. "I speak to her sometimes in Prenca, and at lucid intervals after she was the understand what I say, and evidently and the seems of the cups and assocrated and well educated. She compained of the case in dressing nersell, she evidently expecting some one of perform that Guly. At one of her lucid intervals alse said that her parents were dead, and at another time she spoke of traveiling on the ocean with her grandmother; but she could not remember her rame, and, in fact, her mind as to the past's a complete blant. No one has called to hequire for he girl, and Dr. Braisted said that she would be seen to the Blackwell's lessed insane pavilion, but will leave late this afternoon for Blackwell's Island. Dr. Braisted, who is in charge of the rom the Sun, Wednesday, Oct. 5.) NRLLY MARINO OR BROWN.

SHE TRIES A LITTLE ABOUT HERSELF, BUT IS A MYSTERY YET.

Nelly Marina, who also calls herself Nelly Brown, the pretty crany girl who was sent from Bellevne to Blackwell's Island a week ago yes-

Brown, the presty crasy girl who was sent from Bedievne to Blackwell's Island a week ago yesterday, and abous whom there is believed to be a contained. Here we have a contained as metancholia, and Dr. Lagram, character it a very hopefur one.

"Am I lake of language as metancholia, and Dr. Lagram, and I language is a very hopefur one.

"Am I lake of language as the speaks French, Spanish and Explication of the spanish for Brown. The hospital authorities could easily have written Marina for Morena, so that is girly a spanish of her story instead of a suspicious circumstance.

[From the Sun, Friday, Oct. 7.]

FRIENDS CLAIM NELLY MORENO.

Nelly Brown, or Nelly Moreno, has been released from Blackwell's Island Insane Asylum. On Tuesday Lawyer Peter A. Hendrick, of 90 Nassau street, satisfied the authorities of the anylum, and, under a bond that the girl would be properly cared for, he was permitted to take Nelly away. The people who have taken charge of Nelly are Americand, living in this city. The girl made her home with them, her parents being dead. Sine has an income derived from an estate left by her father, who